501 Long shorts, $58, Levi's

Q Cool festival style that doesn't involve floral crowns or feather headdresses: Does it exist?

Yes! The new look is boho but still chic and modern—think ankle boots, distressed denim shorts, and textured white dresses, not over-the-top '70s style (or culturally insensitive headgear). Fringe strikes the hip/hippie balance, while an anorak keeps you warm when the sun sets over the main stage.

Leather waistcoat, $100, Zara

Trooper jacket, $120, Talula for Aritzia

Pintucked cami, $35, American Eagle Outfitters

Louie, $130, Sam Edelman

Q I wear a size 11 shoe. Help!

Smashshoes.com sells cool heels in sizes 10–13, while Marmi (519 Madison Avenue) goes up to size 13 and John Fluevog (250 Mulberry Street) to 11. “Often a higher heel that’s well balanced is as comfortable as a conservative heel,” notes Gregg Barnes, who should know: He’s Kinky Boots’ costume designer.

Q How can I update my summer wardrobe without spending a ton?

Patterned top-and-bottom sets are having a moment, with every possible permutation of sleeves, lengths, and styles. And the pieces work with your wardrobe as separates, too, so it's like getting a bunch of outfits in one. You're welcome.

Printed top, $40, printed skirt, $50, both Zara

Co-ord knitted tee, $63, co-ord knitted short, $54, both ASOS

Lindsey top, $318, Alexia skirt, $328, both Ronny Kobo

The matchy-matchy trend will take you from brunch to date night.

So cute you'll need a medium brown bag of your own!

Carrie, $355
